

Meg Sayre, M.A.

Human Capital Manager | Project Management Office & Organizational Change Management

Meg Sayre has managed projects with private sector companies and international nonprofits, ranging from wholistic organizational assessments, to area-specific evaluations, social marketing campaigns, curriculum redesign, sales initiatives and organizational development projects. On every project, Meg ensures that all stakeholders are informed and that their inputs are considered and included throughout the process to ensure effective and timely delivery.

PROJECT EXPERIENCE HIGHLIGHTS

---

Manufacturing: As Head of Operations, Meg oversaw the daily business activities of the company, managed projects across 5 divisions, and coordinated with an international partner and 15 international resellers.

Non-Profit: Managed 19 staff members and reviewed strategic documents to generate actionable recommendations to improve professional development. Maintained consistent communication with both the Vice President of Community Investments and the CEO throughout the project. Presented findings and recommendations to the executive leadership team for a go/no-go implementation decision.

Non-Profit: Managed 4 local partners and 5 international partners to create a social marketing campaign supporting a global initiative to reduce neonatal mortality.

Non-Profit: Managed a team of 5 members in the design and implementation of a performance evaluation system to measure program effectiveness and generate recommendations for improvements.

Non-Profit: Conducted an organizational assessment to evaluate the mission, vision, values, culture and structure of the organization and generated concrete recommendations for improvements.

Legal: Managed client portfolio, carried out court filing, docket and legal research, led data compilation and analysis, managed day-to-day accounting operations.

EDUCATION

---

Master of Arts in Public Administration